EDMONTON BULLETIN, APRIL 23, 1902

THE SASKATCHEWAN.

The C. P. R. excursion from Toronto and other eastern points to attend the Edmonton land sale, on May 3rd, will open the season of summer travel, and no doubt Edmonton will hereafter, be a favorite point for summer excursions. The attraction would be greatly increased if the navigation of the Saskatchewan were utilized and steamboat connection given between Edmonton and Prince Albert. If this were done the summer tourist could see all the varied features of the Northwest in the greatest comfort, with the least possible loss of time. At present "seeing the Northwest" means a trip across the plains from Winnipeg to Banff, between which two points there is the least possible variety of scenery, any ten mile stretch in the whole distance being an almost exact reproduction of any other equal distance.

As a matter of fact the Northwest is not seen on such a trip. Only its poorest and least attractive side is seen. A tourist who would leave the main line at Calgary, take the C. & E. branch to Edmonton, sail down the Saskatchewan to Prince Albert, and return to the main line at Regina, besides seeing a variation of landscape with every mile —and along the Saskatchewan, some of the most beautiful river scenery in the world—would get a true idea of the value of the Northwest as an agricultural region, just as one following the present route of travel gets an entirely misleading idea. It cannot be reiterated too frequently that the Saskatchewan in its course of 500 miles from Edmonton to Prince Albert flows through a region of unbroken—though, of course, of varying—fertility; a region of sufficient rainfall, of good water and of abundant timber, either immediately at hand or easily reached. Without further railway construction this whole region can be traversed by large steamers during the greater part of the summer. There are several large and well fitted steamers owned by the Northwest Navigation Co., which formerly ran on the Saskatchewan from Grand Rapids to Edmonton, now lying at or below Prince Albert, their former trade having been cut off by the railways to Prince Albert and Edmonton. But while the railways have cut off the through traffic in which the boats were formerly employed they have made possible a local traffic such as here mentioned, for which the boats are well suited. It would be greatly to the interest of the C. P. R. company, in the matters both of passenger and freight traffic and the development of their lands along the river, if these boats were started running again, and it is to be hoped in the general interest that they will see the matter in that light with sufficient clearness to induce them either to take hold of the steamers and run them, or to make such arrangements with other parties as would warrant them in taking up the enterprise. Capitalists who are looking for investments would do well to consider this matter, not only in the light of travel and traffic between the two railroad points, but also with a view to the local trade to be done in lumber and coal between Edmonton and all points down the stream. A point to be noted is that all, or almost all, freight might be taken down stream; only passengers need be brought up.

Many people who think only a little are fond of remarking on the comparative aggregate wealth of Canada and the United States, and also of comparing the wealth of the wealthiest men in Canada with that of the wealthy men of the United States. This is how it strikes a certain American: "The sneaker recalled the time when Stephen Girard and John Jacob Astor were the only millionaires in the United States, and there were none known. Now the millionaires were numbered by thousands and the tramps by millions." There is more wealth in the United States than in Canada and there are wealthier men there than here, but there is more wealth per head in Canada than in the States and the division of wealth is more equal.

LACROSSE.

A meeting of those interested in the formation of a lacrosse club was held in Beck & McNamara's office on Monday the 18th at 8 p. m. Rev. C. Cunningham chairman, P. L. McNamara secretary.

On motion the meeting organized itself in itself into a lacrosse club, under the name of the Edmonton lacrosse club. Rev. C. Cunningham was elected president of the club, E. Raymer, vice-president, F. A. Hardisty, secretary-treasurer. A managing committee consisting of R. Hardisty, John E. Graham, George Thomson, Fred Ross, Frank Nutt and the secretary-treasurer was elected. The membership fee was fixed at $1. The club colors are to be: Jersey, white, knickerbockers, dark blue, and stockings if worn, dark blue. The question of grounds was discussed and it was decided that the committee should meet the managing committees of other athletic clubs of the town to consider the advisability of securing permanent grounds for joint use. In the meantime the race ground will be used for practice. The regular practice meetings of the club will be on Wednesday and Friday evenings, at 7 o'clock and a scratch match will be played every Saturday at 4 p. m. Dr. McInnis, F. D. Fortin and Harry Hope were elected honorary members of the club. A vote of thanks to the chairman closed the meeting.

The managing committee met at once to arrange for a supply of lacrosse sticks for the club.

Before the close of Tuesday the club roll contained a list of 76 members, showing that the people of Edmonton are beginning to take an active interest in athletics. With the organization of the other clubs of the town a splendid season of sport may be expected, which will be a good advertisement for the place.

THAT PAMPHLET.

The Regina Standard of April 13th has an article headed "That pamphlet," the point of which is not apparent to the ordinary reader. It would take too long to follow the article through and explain all the hints which it contains; and as the matter does not put any of the parties connected with it in a very favorable light, it would have been much better to have said nothing about it. But as both the Regina Leader and Standard have alluded to it in somewhat indefinite terms, the BULLETIN feels justified in stating the facts, or what are currently reported to be facts, in the case in order that the suspicion which has been aroused by these papers may not be unjustly directed. The advisory council which held office during the third and last session of the first assembly had a vigorous immigration policy—in their minds. In pursuance of that policy it was thought advisable to compile and issue an immigration pamphlet that would be of vast benefit to the Territories and be a lasting monument to the ability and foresight of the advisory council. It was devised on a grand scale, combining literary excellence with accurate information, and was to be profusely illustrated. The best writers in the Territories were to be engaged to fill its pages. The Territories, as a whole were to be written up and the same was to be done for every electoral district. What occurred to thwart this grand and beneficial project has not come to the knowledge of the BULLETIN. Probably it was a simple case of the advisory council biting off more than its members could collectively or individually chew. At any rate month after month passed, following the close of the session of the assembly in the fall of 1890, until the season for immigration work had slipped by and no pamphlet appeared. From outside sources it is learned that no pamphlet was printed up to the spring of 1891 and at that time the advisory council having collected an unarranged and sometimes contradictory mass of matter bearing more or less on the immigration field afforded by the Territories, had given up the attempt to publish it. The delegation from the advisory council which visited Ottawa in the spring of 1891 prevailed upon the minister of agriculture to take charge of the matter collected and publish some 22,000 copies in pamphlet form. The minister having agreed to issue the work was compelled to have it arranged for publication. He asked N. F. Davin, M. P. for Western Assiniboia, who had contributed an important article and who was in Ottawa at the time to arrange the matter, to see that it was not contradictory, in fact to edit it. This Mr. Davin did. He also wrote a preface and put his name on the title page as editor. The pamphlet was printed in this shape; too late for use in the season for which it was intended but certainly in ample time for the season just passed. Although the printing was certainly completed before the fall of 1891, the spring of 1892 has arrived, two seasons of immigration work have passed, and yet no pamphlet has appeared. Judging from the Standard's remarks, the reason that the pamphlet was not issued after being printed was because the Northwest government—that is the late advisory council or the present executive, or both—objected to Mr. Davin's name appearing as editor. The Standard says:

"Did not Mr. Davin make his personality so offensively prominent; and did he not arrogate to himself so much credit for a work with which he had little to do, that the Executive, and in fact the whole assembly, refused to accept it, unless the preface and covers were torn off and the whole thing issued in another dress? Is not this the reason that the pamphlet, which cost a very large sum, and which is charged against expenses of governing the Territories, is now mouldering, part of it in Mr. Mowat's warehouse and the balance in Ottawa? We congratulate the Assembly and its Executive upon their apparent determination to resent the man's boundless egotism. We have examined the pamphlet and highly commend the idea of adding to its effectiveness by stripping off the covers and preface and putting it up as was originally intended."

The BULLETIN has nothing to say in defence of Mr. Davin or in palliation of his egotism; but begs to point out, 1st, That if Mr. Davin's services had not been asked he would not have had the opportunity to exhibit his egotism, and 2nd, That neither Mr. Davin nor his egotism, as manifested on the covers or in the preface of the pamphlet, detracted in the slightest degree from whatever value the work might otherwise possess as a contribution to immigration literature. And that after such a work was complete, to prevent its issue or use until it has gone out of date simply because it contained an exhibition of Mr. Davin's egotism, (as must be inferred from the remarks of the Standard) was a disgraceful exhibition of childishness on the part of the late advisory council, which the assembly could not possibly have agreed with as the matter was never brought before its notice, and which it is to be hoped the present executive has not become a party to by suppressing the pamphlet for the same reason. The public are not particularly interested in the question of whether Mr. Davin's egotism exceeded that of some one else or not, or whether or not it balanced the stupidity of those who expected an incongruous mass of matter to shape itself into a connected pamphlet without the aid of intelligence; but they are interested in the fact that a certain amount of their money was taken to publish an immigration pamphlet (against the intrinsic value of which nothing has yet been alleged) which has not been published on account of certain private jealousies between those who had the matter in hand. This is not business, and is not the way in which the people of the Northwest expect to have their business run.

LOCAL.

SEEDING and gardening were in full blast all over the district on Monday, April 18th. The ground is in splendid condition for seeding and the weather most favorable.

JOHN BROWN and Jos. Macdonald returned from a hunting trip to the West last week. 25 miles southeast of Beaver lake, on Wednesday. Ways were numerous but very wild. There were still large snow drifts in the willow clumps on prairie and the weather was cold while they were out.

THE C. P. R. advertise to issue second-class tickets from all points in Ontario to Edmonton at $41.90, on April 25th only. Standard certificates will be issued with each ticket, which, when presented by purchasers of land to agents, Edmonton, will entitle holder to a colonist class ticket back to original starting point, free.

FRESH butter and fresh eggs have been scarce in town during the past week. Eggs were offered in large quantities up to about the 10th at 20 cents a dozen, but a drop in price to 15 cents shut off the supply. Butter was also plentiful up to the first of this month. It is now worth 30c a pound, and no doubt will remain scarce until the green grass comes.

L. A. HAMILTON, land commissioner of the C. P. R. announces that he will be in Edmonton on the 28th inst., to adjust the claims of squatters on C. P. R. lands in the Edmonton district. Squatters or others laying claim to any of the odd numbered sections in the Edmonton district should bring their claims and evidence to his notice at the auction sale which will take place on May 3rd.

THE value of lots on Main street and Jasper avenue, in the business portion of the town, have shown a large increase in value during the past year. The increase has chiefly been about the lots on Fraser avenue to the line of the H. B. property. One lot, lying between $4 to $8 a front foot was considered a high price last spring. Now the price is from $20 to $25 a front foot. A number of sales have been made at these prices.

THE last crossing of the river with teams on the ice this season was on Saturday, April 10th. On Sunday, Monday and Tuesday morning some crossing was done partly by boat and partly on foot. On Tuesday evening there was a large amount of ice just above the town ferry landing, and the crossing was made in small boats there during Tuesday afternoon, Wednesday and until Thursday at noon. During Thursday forenoon the ice jam in front of Fraser & Co.'s mill broke away and at noon a rise of water broke all the ice jams up the river and filled the stream with floating ice for a few hours. The ice ran out during Thursday night and the upper ferry began running on Friday morning.

THE regular Easter vestry meeting of All Saints' church was held in the church, on Monday, the 18th instant. Rev. Chas. Cunningham in the chair. The vestry read the report of last year showing the church to be in good standing financially, there being a small balance over at the closing year, a large increase in the number of the members. Mr. Becher was re-elected people's warden for the year. The following vestrymen were elected: W. T. Livick, Dr. Braithwaite, John Looby, Jas. McKernan, E. Looby, J. C. F. Brown, F. D. Fortin, John Fraser. A vote was passed thanking Mr. Michael for his kindness in taking the organ during the greater part of the past year. A vote was also passed thanking Mr. Randall for taking the position of organist, and conducting the singing of the church, and requesting him to continue the same during the present year. Mr. Randall replied, saying that it would give him pleasure to continue as organist for the year. A further vote was passed thanking the ladies of the Willing Workers for their assistance to the church during the past year.

THE members of the Parry Sound colony who arrived last week expressed themselves as highly pleased with the country and find it quite up to the representations made. They are also more than satisfied with the routine it which they have been met by the C. P. R. company, but they complain that the promises made by or on behalf of the government, and the survey of the townships reserved for the survey of the land made good and consequently they are being put to considerable inconvenience, delay and loss in the selection of their lands. Mr. Dowker, land examiner for the C. P. R. and Mr. Johnstone of the timber office on behalf of the government, have been visiting and finding the lines and stakes, with only partial success. Night or ten of the colony have located in or near the townships reserved. A number have secured rented places or taken them on shares, and others are still occupying the shanties erected near the railway station by the government, until they can secure locations. Since their arrival and until Friday they have been at a disadvantage in being unable to cross the river owing to the ice breaking up, but now that they are less restricted they will not be long in settling themselves for the season. The colony numbers 46 actual families and nearly an equal number of single men and will be a most valuable addition to the population of the district.
